

Governance and Representation

Prof. Xinning Song, RUC

Prof. Bruno Coppieters, VUB

Target audience: prospective PhDs in political science

- Young Chinese scholars interested in today's governance dynamics and outcomes
- Focus may be:
 - On particular policy challenges such as unemployment, migration, climate change, nationalism, security and terrorism
 - Gender equality and female representation
 - How are these issues addressed (or 'governed') in different countries, regions or at a global level?

VUB Cluster Members

- Prof. Karen Celis, Dept. of Political Science
- Prof. Florian Trauner, Dept. of Political Science & IES
- Prof. Christian Kaunert, Dept. of Political Science & IES
- Prof. Steffi Weil, Dept. of Political Science & Vesalius College
- Prof. Joachim Koops, Dept. of Political Science & Vesalius College
- Prof. Silvia Erzeel, Dept. of Political Science
- Prof. Didier Caluwaerts, Dept. of Political Science

Institutional background

Vrije Universiteit Brussel

Vakgroep Politieke Wetenschappen

POLI

HOME RESEARCH WHO IS WHO PUBLICATIONS ONLINE PUBLICATIONS CONTACT

PARTNERS

IES
BRIO
EDGE

The Department of Political Science groups all the people involved in political science teaching and research at the Vrije Universiteit Brussel.

INSTITUTE FOR EUROPEAN
STUDIES

Institutional background

Search

Home ▾ Vesalius College ▾ Academics ▾ Admissions ▾ Campus Life ▾ Current Students ▾ News & Events ▾ Alumni ▾ Research ▾

Summer Programme at Vesalius College 2017

Build your future in the Capital of Europe

Programmes

Apply now!

The Institute for European Studies

15 years of excellence

INSTITUTE FOR EUROPEAN
STUDIES